Creative Greensboro's Playwrights Forum Calls for Submissions

GREENSBORO, NC (August 14, 2020) – Creative Greensboro is soliciting 10-minute scripts for the NC Radio Play Festival, a collaborative audio play festival produced by the Cary Playwrights Forum and the Greensboro Playwrights Forum. From the submitted audio plays, a select group will be fully-produced on the CPF Radio Hour podcast site. (<https://cpfradiohour.podbean.com/>). The submission window is open now until 11:59:59 PM on August 31st, 2020.

This year's theme is "Halloween!" Submitted audio plays must have an element of horror, supernatural, fantasy, or science fiction to be accepted.

Submission Requirements

- Scripts must be submitted by 11:59:59 PM on August 31st, 2020
- Playwright must be a North Carolina resident
- Email scripts to submissions@caryplaywrightsforum.org
- Scripts should be written in standard play format
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sihSKcQB5OE>
- Scripts should be about 10 minutes in length
- Scripts must adhere to the "Halloween" theme (see above).
- Maximum of two script submissions per playwright (submit each script in a separate email)
- We cannot use copyrighted music as part of the soundscape. Recommendations for royalty-free music is acceptable.
- No musical submissions will be accepted

Requirements for Submission

Please email each script submission with the following:

1. An attached, anonymized copy of your script (.pdf or .doc, with all contact information removed).

2. Your contact info in the body of the email. Include:
 - Your full name
 - Title of the script
 - Brief script synopsis (two sentences max)
 - Phone number, street address, and email address
3. The title of the script in the subject line. Example subject line should read “NC Radio Play Festival Submission: TITLE OF PLAY.”
